Remuneration policies	9.2 Remuneration policies
Article 29	(deleted)
The remuneration of the members of the Board of Directors comprises only fixed remuneration elements. Unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors, this will be paid in cash.	9.2.1 (deleted) The remuneration of the members of the Board of Directors consists of a function-dependent, fixed, non-performance-related director's fee. An additional fixed fee is paid for chairing and being a member of a committee. The remuneration of the members of the Board of Directors takes into account the responsibility and activities of the members of the Board of Directors. The amount of the remuneration elements is determined by the Board of Directors as part of the total remuneration for the Board of Directors approved by the General Meeting. If the Board of Directors appoints a delegate from the Board of Directors, their remuneration can consist of the elements of remuneration of the members of the Executive Board (Articles 9.2.2 to 9.3.3).
The remuneration of the members of the Executive Board comprises fixed and variable components. The fixed remuneration consists of a base salary paid in cash and other remuneration elements and benefits. The variable remuneration comprises short-term and/or long-term variable remuneration elements. The variable remuneration can amount to a maximum of 130% of the fixed remuneration.	9.2.2 The remuneration of the members of the Executive Board comprises fixed and variable components. The fixed remuneration consists of a base salary paid in cash and other remuneration elements and benefits. The variable remuneration comprises short-term and/or long-term variable remuneration elements. The variable awarded remuneration can amount to a maximum of 130 per cent of the fixed remuneration.
Short-term variable remuneration elements are based on performance values that take into account the performance of the Company, the Group or parts thereof, targets calculated in relation to the market, other companies or comparable benchmarks and/or individual targets, and the achievement of which is generally measured over a one-year period. Unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors or, if delegated to do so, the Remuneration Committee, short-term variable remuneration elements are paid in the form of shares of the Company or in cash, which may be blocked for a certain period of time. Long-term variable remuneration elements take into account the sustainable, long-term success of the Company and/or the Group and may also include incentives for connection. Unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors or, if delegated to do so, the Remuneration Committee, long-term variable remuneration elements shall be paid in whole or in part in the form of shares of the Company, which may be blocked for a certain period of time.	9.2.3 Short-term variable remuneration elements ("short-term incentive") are based on performance values that take into account the performance of the Company, the Group or parts thereof, targets calculated in relation to the market, other companies or comparable benchmarks and/or individual targets, and the achievement of which is generally measured over a one-year period. These may stipulate that, due to events determined in advance, such as a change of control or the termination of an employment or mandate contract, vesting and/or exercise conditions and/or lock-up periods are continued, shortened or cancelled, and remuneration is paid assuming that the target values are achieved or remuneration lapses. The Company may acquire the required shares on the market or make them available using authorised or conditional share capital.	9.2.5 These may stipulate that, due to events determined in advance, such as a change of control or the termination of an employment or mandate contract, (deleted) performance conditions and/or lock-up periods are continued, shortened or cancelled, and remuneration is paid assuming that the target values are achieved or remuneration lapses. The Company may acquire the required shares on the market or make them available using the (deleted) capital range or conditional share capital.
The remuneration may be paid by the Company or by companies controlled by it.	9.2.6 The remuneration may be paid by the Company or by companies controlled by it.
	9.3 Performance-related and participation schemes
	(deleted)
	9.3.1 The remuneration of members of the Executive Board consists of fixed remuneration elements, a variable performance component and a stock option plan (performance share units, PSU; or similar instruments). The variable performance component is intended to create an incentive to improve the Company's results and thus continuously increase the Company's value. It is measured by the achievement of financial targets and performance targets, which are determined by the Board of Directors at the beginning of the relevant performance period. The performance targets can include personal targets, company and division-specific targets of a financial and non-financial nature, taking into account the role of the member of the Executive Board. The variable performance component foreseen for the achievement of the financial targets has an entry barrier and can reach up to a maximum of 200% of the target amount if the targets are exceeded. The variable performance component, which depends on the achievement of financial targets, is partly paid out in shares, comparable instruments, cash and/or units determined by the Company to ensure direct participation in the long-term performance of the Company. The variable performance component, which depends on the achievement of performance targets, is limited to a maximum of 100% of the target amount if the targets are exceeded and is paid in cash. To further align with shareholder interests, the Board of Directors may decide on guidelines for the Executive Board members regarding the accumulation and retention of a minimum shareholding in the Company.
	9.3.2 The performance share unit scheme issued by the Board of Directors aims to incentivise the Executive Board to contribute to the long-term, positive development of the Company and to support the recruitment and retention of key personnel. Performance share units entitle the holder to purchase shares in the Company after a period of typically three years, provided they are in a non-terminated employment relationship.
	9.3.3 The Board of Directors shall determine the details for granting the performance share units such as performance conditions, including targets and weighting, any expiry conditions, lock-up periods as well as the time of allocation and valuation; it may provide that performance conditions and periods, as well as lock-up periods, can be shortened or cancelled based on the occurrence of predetermined events, such as the termination of an employment or mandate relationship, compensation being aligned assuming the achievement of target values, or compensation lapsing. The Board of Directors shall take into account the long-term interests of the Company.
